DRIVE NEXT WEEK FOR JEWISH RELIEF FUND

Statesboro will have a part next week in the nation-wide drive for the Jewish Relief fund, for the benefit of starving people of Europe.

While this fund is designated as Jewish Relief, as a matter of fact the fund is for the benefit of all the sufferers of every religion.

There will be five teams engaged in the drive in Statesboro:

North Main street, Mrs. J. C. Lane, Savannah and Zetterow avenues—Mrs. J. C. Watson and Mrs. Chas. Pique.

South Main and College streets—Miss Irene Arden.

Andersonville and vicinity—Mrs. Sidney Smith and Mrs. G. Moore.

Business section—Pete Donaldson and Mr. Littman.

These committee heads will meet at the court house at 10 o'clock Monday morning and prepare the details of their campaign.

DOES THIS MEAN YOU?

Many people are suffering with liver trouble of some description. Some conditions are more "sluggishness." Some call it "biliousness." Are you aware of the cause of all this? Too much heat accumulates in the liver crystallizing the mineral substance of the bile. If the nerve leading to the liver is doing its work properly, this heat is regulated. If the nerve is pinched the bile cannot function properly.

The Chiropractor examines the spine and locates the bones causing this pinched condition of the nerve and adjusts the bone to its proper position. Normal heat is again restored to the liver and the bile also becomes the fluid it should be.

Your local Chiropractor will be glad to examine you and give you consultation free of charge.

MARINE CORPS HAS RESUMED RECRUITING

Savannah, Ga., March 13, 1922.

Editor Bulloch Times, Statesboro, Ga.

Dear Sir:

The U. S. Marine Corps has resumed recruiting and we have a few vacancies, and I ask that you please so inform the young men of your vicinity by giving a little space in your valuable paper.

The standard having been slightly raised since our last suspension, we cannot accept any one under five feet five inches in height and must weigh at least 130 pounds stripped, must be at least 20 years of age, although we can accept a man who is 19 years of age if he can "prove his age" by having a birth certificate or statement made by his parents and sworn to by a notary public. All applicants must be able to read and write the English language and be of good habits and character. The term of enlistment is for three or four years, pay from $30 up.

If you can give us a little news on the above subject, it will be highly appreciated, as there are a lot of young men throughout the country seeking enlistment in the Marine Corps, if they only knew that we had resumed recruiting.

Thanking you in advance for anything you might do for us, I am,

Sincerely yours,
CARL G. SCHULER,
Sergeant in Charge.

NO ADDITIONAL TAX BY ROAD BOND ISSUE

INCOME FROM AUTOMOBILE TAG LICENSE AND GASOLINE WILL TAKE CARE OF PAYMENTS.

In a statement given to the press this week by Hon. J. B. Daniel, of LaGrange, president of the Georgia Good Roads Association, assurance is given the voters of the state who are interested in securing good roads for Georgia by means of the $75,000,000 state road bond issue that not a penny's additional property tax will be put upon the people by means of these bonds.

Specific provision is made in the proposed constitutional amendment proposed this, Mr. Daniel said, that "The next legislature simply must provide a state fund for road building or forfeit participation in federal aid. There is no way out of this, and the sensible thing to do is to provide a fund of sufficient size to guarantee completion of the state highway system in keeping with the standards required by federal engineers on all federal-aid roads, while we are at it."

"In the last four years Georgia has dropped from fourth to seventh place in agricultural rating among the states. She stands forty-third in education, and only last week our newspapers carried a news item under Washington date line giving census figures of the United States government which show Georgia losing population to other states although we boast a climate and soil unsurpassed in the world."

Georgia's undeveloped agriculture and mineral resources are a crying shame upon the state, and yet we hesitate to do the very thing that is going to remedy these conditions—build good roads all over the state.

"Permeate our mountains and plains with highways and let the people get a vision of what we really have, and then watch Georgia grow."

"Any fear that the road bonds will bring an additional tax burden upon the people is simply a mistake," said Mr. Daniel. "Why, we are paying far heavier toll to our bad roads today than the good roads would cost us even if a direct tax levy were made to build them. And when you take into consideration that the state highway department proposes to build this great network of roads within ten years, if given the fund with which to do it, and that these funds can be provided by the license fees and gasoline tax, without any additional tax levy, it is inconceivable that there could be found anyone in the state who would really oppose the bond issue."

Mr. Daniel said it had never been proposed by the Good Roads Association to issue $75,000,000 in bonds all at once, but their effort is to secure authorization for the issuance within ten years of that amount or such amount as may be retired by the automobile license fees and gasoline tax. He said there never would be one day when interest would be accumulating on the entire issue, as $4,000,000 of the first issues would be put on the market, when the state would register and be prepared to vote in this most important matter.

"Women are, in my opinion, entitled to register and vote in the 1922 elections without payment of poll tax for this year. The capita, or poll tax, is payable at the same time as other taxes are paid, and payment of same cannot be demanded as a condition precedent to the exercise of the elective franchise," according to Col. Napier.

"Poll taxes were not due by women for the year 1921. One of the controlling reasons is that it is provided in section 1, of the general tax act, that the terms and provisions of this act shall not take effect and become operative until January 1, 1922, and shall continue thereafter."

In order to vote in county and state elections this year, women will have to register with the tax collector before April 1, when the registration books close under the Neil primary act.

Whether a woman is registered or not she is liable for poll tax of $1 beginning in 1922. She is required by law, on the same footing as a man, to make a return of a poll tax to the tax collector before May 1 of this year. This tax will not be due until December. After the tax books close May 1 the receiver will make up the tax digest, after which the county commission will fix the rate for 1922. No matter what rate is fixed, the poll tax remains the same, $1.

The eight counties which are now over the top in the order of the crossing their quota line are Hart, Banks, Wheeler, Clark, Dodge, Clarke, Franklin and Bulloch.

The largest sign-up numerically to date is that of Franklin county, which has signed 15,000 bales.

For a county to go over the top the association headquarters, mean that it has signed one-third of the entire cotton production of the county.

The quotas of the counties on which the association is concentrating, total 350,000 bales, and if the campaign were to move perfectly, the association would sign nearly this amount. There will doubtless be many counties which will not come into the quota, but there will be a few which will double them. For example, Wheeler county has already signed over two-thirds of its cotton production, and the association officials are taking great encouragement from the fact that in general it is the heaviest cotton county in the state.

It will be both gratifying and satisfying to the people of the state to see today making the strongest showing.

$5.00 In Gold Free

Could You Use $5.00 In Gold?

WE ARE GOING TO GIVE SOME ONE, ABSOLUTELY FREE, THAT AMOUNT, MONDAY NIGHT, APRIL 3RD, DURING THE PERFORMANCE OF FLOYD AND CO., THE FAMOUS MAGICIANS, AT THE HOUSE.

Here are the rules of the contest: See how many words you can form using only the letters appearing in the words—

"Floyd, The Magician"

To the Person turning in the largest number of words to the judges, on or by Friday preceding the attraction, which comes on the 3rd, we will award $5.00 in Gold.

1. Use only the letters appearing in the three words. And do not use any letter more times in any word than it appears in the three words above.
2. Only words in the English language are permissible.
3. Write on one side of the paper; keep your words in order and number them, showing at the top of your page the number of words you have.
4. All papers must be submitted to the judges not later than Friday night, March 31.
5. If the contestant having the largest number of words is not present to get the prize in person, it will be presented to the next highest, and so on until some one gets it. Positively some one present will win it, as it will not be held back nor sent by anyone. Be present yourself.
6. The award will be made Monday night, April 3rd, during the intermission in the performance of FLOYD & CO., the magicians, at the court house.

WOMEN MAY VOTE WITHOUT PAYING TAX

RETURNS AND PAYMENT NEXT FALL NECESSARY, HOWEVER RULES NAPIER.

Atlanta, March 20.—Women do not have to pay a poll tax for 1921 to be eligible to vote in elections this year, according to an opinion handed down by Attorney-General George M. Napier to Governor Hardwick Saturday.

But women who are now on the same footing as the men in regard to voting and paying taxes, must return a poll tax to the county tax collector in the county in which they live. Payment will be due in the fall when all state and county taxes are due.

"Women are, in my opinion, entitled to register and vote in the 1922 elections without payment of poll tax for this year. STATE BOND ISSUE TO BUY A. B. & A.

SENATOR FRANK MANSON, OF JONESBORO, WILL SUBMIT THE MATTER TO LEGISLATURE.

Atlanta, March 28.—Senator Frank Manson, of Jonesboro, is gathering and preparing data on which he will this year, advance to the legislature the proposition that the state of Georgia buy the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic Railroad and couple it onto the Western and Atlantic, thus giving the state a railroad property nearly 1,000 miles long, connecting the Alabama coal field, the Georgia deep water facilities and an outlet to the upper country.

It is a Senator Manson presents his argument, a matter of preservation of the present state-owned railroad property.

"I am not in favor of state competition with privately owned common carriers, and I do not believe the state ought to be in the railroad business, as an original proposition," said Senator Manson today, "but at the same time I do believe in the state preserving and protecting its power and prestige as an asset."

"It looms to me, on the horizon of the future, that unless something is done in the meantime, when the present lease on the W. and A. expires, it is out that railroad is not going to be worth enough to pay for the upkeep of its equipment and the grease run in the car wheels, as a railroad. The hold on the property, and that hold is going to grow even tighter when it becomes to the interest of the N. to complete the construction of its North Georgia Mineral railroad scheme, which already has been chartered, and runs that line on into Atlanta in direct competition with the W. and A. The approximate 150-mile of road which the state owns is virtually at the mercy of the L. & N. because it is of no great value to any other trunk line."

"Now, on the other angle: The A. B. & A. line more than 600 miles long, touches the coast of Georgia at Georgia port. It is practically a block today, and under sale could be bought comparatively for a song, doubt if an offer of eight millions for it would be rejected. Certainly it would be bought mighty cheap as railroad property, and its actual railroad value would be enhanced by its coupling it, eventually, with the W. & A. property. In that case the completed or connected road would have a far greater leasing value than either the lines now could have as separate properties. The railroad properties, which would be bought for a song, would be a proper time to consider, whether it is not good judgment that the state undertake a bond issue for the purchase of the A. B. & A. railroad, when as a matter of business and practice those bonds would not become a burden upon the taxpayers of Georgia, but could be issued with the railroad property itself as the necessary security. The state, of course, would back the bond issue and give them that stability which would be necessary to readily dispose of them, but it would figure out in actuality merely a plan of using the state's strong credit."

"An endeavoring to gather together all the necessary and informative data on the subject, and it is my purpose to put that in understandable form and submit it to the legislature as a proposition this summer."

We shall velvet beans, peas or peanuts any day except Saturday.

TROX BANKSTON WRITES OF MEETING OF EDITORS

The meeting of the editors of the First Congressional district in Statesboro Monday was the most delightful ever enjoyed by the association since its organization.

The luncheon served President E. V. Hollis at the dining hall of the First District A. & M. school to the editors of the district newspapers and the Advertising Club of Statesboro was the most enjoyable event of the day.

The culinary art as demonstrated by the clever students at this splendid luncheon evidenced the fact that do attention is not to be given to practical, and shows that girls can be useful as well as ornamental in a home, and there is no reason why any of these graduates should ever join the old maid chorus.

The repeat was beautiful and every thing served deliciously and temptingly prepared by the young girls, and proved that playing on a cello is productive of more impressive results than playing on a piano, if you can't do both.

The Statesboro Advertising Club has put this charming city more dis-

TROX BANKSTON WRITES OF MEETING OF EDITORS

The meeting of the editors of the First Congressional district in Statesboro Monday was the most delightful ever enjoyed by the association since its organization.

The luncheon served President E. V. Hollis at the dining hall of the First District A. & M. school to the editors of the district newspapers and the Advertising Club of Statesboro was the most enjoyable event of the day.

The culinary art as demonstrated by the clever students at this splendid luncheon evidenced the fact that do attention is not to be given to practical, and shows that girls can be useful as well as ornamental in a home, and there is no reason why any of these graduates should ever join the old maid chorus.

The repeat was beautiful and every thing served deliciously and temptingly prepared by the young girls, and proved that playing on a cello is productive of more impressive results than playing on a piano, if you can't do both.

The Statesboro Advertising Club has put this charming city more dis-

WOMEN MAY VOTE WITHOUT PAYING TAX

RETURNS AND PAYMENT NEXT FALL NECESSARY, HOWEVER RULES NAPIER.

Atlanta, March 20.—Women do not have to pay a poll tax for 1921 to be eligible to vote in elections this year, according to an opinion handed down by Attorney-General George M. Napier to Governor Hardwick Saturday.

But women who are now on the same footing as the men in regard to voting and paying taxes, must return a poll tax to the county tax collector in the county in which they live. Payment will be due in the fall when all state and county taxes are due.

"Women are, in my opinion, entitled to register and vote in the 1922 elections without payment of poll tax for this year. The capita, or poll tax, is payable at the same time as other taxes are paid, and payment of same cannot be demanded as a condition precedent to the exercise of the elective franchise," according to Col. Napier.

"Poll taxes were not due by women for the year 1921. One of the controlling reasons is that it is provided in section 1, of the general tax act, that the terms and provisions of this act shall not take effect and become operative until January 1, 1922, and shall continue thereafter."

In order to vote in county and state elections this year, women will have to register with the tax collector before April 1, when the registration books close under the Neil primary act.

Whether a woman is registered or not she is liable for poll tax of $1 beginning in 1922. She is required by law, on the same footing as a man, to make a return of a poll tax to the tax collector before May 1 of this year. This tax will not be due until December. After the tax books close May 1 the receiver will make up the tax digest, after which the county commission will fix the rate for 1922. No matter what rate is fixed, the poll tax remains the same, $1.

The eight counties which are now over the top in the order of the crossing their quota line are Hart, Banks, Wheeler, Clark, Dodge, Clarke, Franklin and Bulloch.

The largest sign-up numerically to date is that of Franklin county, which has signed 15,000 bales.

For a county to go over the top the association headquarters, mean that it has signed one-third of the entire cotton production of the county.

The quotas of the counties on which the association is concentrating, total 350,000 bales, and if the campaign were to move perfectly, the association would sign nearly this amount. There will doubtless be many counties which will not come into the quota, but there will be a few which will double them. For example, Wheeler county has already signed over two-thirds of its cotton production, and the association officials are taking great encouragement from the fact that in general it is the heaviest cotton county in the state.

It will be both gratifying and satisfying to the people of the state to see today making the strongest showing.

STATE BOND ISSUE TO BUY A. B. & A.

SENATOR FRANK MANSON, OF JONESBORO, WILL SUBMIT THE MATTER TO LEGISLATURE.

Atlanta, March 28.—Senator Frank Manson, of Jonesboro, is gathering and preparing data on which he will this year, advance to the legislature the proposition that the state of Georgia buy the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic Railroad and couple it onto the Western and Atlantic, thus giving the state a railroad property nearly 1,000 miles long, connecting the Alabama coal field, the Georgia deep water facilities and an outlet to the upper country.

It is a Senator Manson presents his argument, a matter of preservation of the present state-owned railroad property.

"I am not in favor of state competition with privately owned common carriers, and I do not believe the state ought to be in the railroad business, as an original proposition," said Senator Manson today, "but at the same time I do believe in the state preserving and protecting its power and prestige as an asset."

"It looms to me, on the horizon of the future, that unless something is done in the meantime, when the present lease on the W. and A. expires, it is out that railroad is not going to be worth enough to pay for the upkeep of its equipment and the grease run in the car wheels, as a railroad. The hold on the property, and that hold is going to grow even tighter when it becomes to the interest of the N. to complete the construction of its North Georgia Mineral railroad scheme, which already has been chartered, and runs that line on into Atlanta in direct competition with the W. and A. The approximate 150-mile of road which the state owns is virtually at the mercy of the L. & N. because it is of no great value to any other trunk line."

"Now, on the other angle: The A. B. & A. line more than 600 miles long, touches the coast of Georgia at Georgia port. It is practically a block today, and under sale could be bought comparatively for a song, doubt if an offer of eight millions for it would be rejected. Certainly it would be bought mighty cheap as railroad property, and its actual railroad value would be enhanced by its coupling it, eventually, with the W. & A. property. In that case the completed or connected road would have a far greater leasing value than either the lines now could have as separate properties. The railroad properties, which would be bought for a song, would be a proper time to consider, whether it is not good judgment that the state undertake a bond issue for the purchase of the A. B. & A. railroad, when as a matter of business and practice those bonds would not become a burden upon the taxpayers of Georgia, but could be issued with the railroad property itself as the necessary security. The state, of course, would back the bond issue and give them that stability which would be necessary to readily dispose of them, but it would figure out in actuality merely a plan of using the state's strong credit."

40 Bales from 40 Acres

EARLY fertilizing and early planting are both essential if you are going to get ahead of the boll-weevil.

That is the way B. L. Moss got his large and profitable crop of 40 bales from 40 acres. He planted long staple cotton, he planted early; he fertilized when he planted.

Nitrate of Soda

he put on his land that gave his plants their fast, strong start.

Use it when you plant. This gives the young plants a fast, strong start so that by the time the boll-weevil comes around the squares are tough and strong enough to resist it. That's the big secret of raising cotton that stays healthy and gets to market and gets the money.

The boll-weevil only bites into squares that are young and tender. As soon as they develop a tough outer fibre, they are strong enough so the weevil does not trouble them.

The whole story of how Moss did it is published in Bulletin No. 1. You ought to read it. Send a postal card once for it.

If you want to raise a bale to the acre, these 3 things do—

- 1—Plant long staple
- 2—Plant early
- 3—Fertilize with Nitrate of Soda when you plant.

When your brand of fertilizer does not carry more than 2 or 3 per cent of nitrogen, use in addition 200 lbs. of Nitrate of Soda per acre.

MILK ANALYSIS BY THE BABCOCK TEST

The Babcock test is a method for ascertaining the amount of fat in milk products. It was devised by S. M. Babcock, Ph. D., chief chemist of the Wisconsin agricultural experiment station, and first made public in 1900. It is rapid, inexpensive and accurate and has found extensive application.

Among the important results coming from its use are: The payment for milk and cream according to fat content has been practical; it has enabled milk producers to detect unprofitable cows and guided them in improving their herds.

The test is based on the action of sulphuric acid upon the constituents of milk and cream, and the action of centrifugal force. The acid acts upon the milk-solids (casein, sugar, albumin and salts) in such a way as to break them down and liberate the fat globules from the form of an emulsion. These globules easily run together, due to the heat developed. The separation of the fat is then completed by the action of the centrifugal force. For illustration, Jersey No. 1 gives 4 gallons or 34.4 pounds of milk per day that tests 6 per cent fat, while Jersey No. 2, giving the same amount of milk tests only 4 per cent fat. The total fat from Jersey No. 1 is 2.06 pounds per day and that from Jersey No. 2 is 1.37 pounds, proving that Jersey No. 1 is the more valuable cow, other things being equal.

The date having been fixed for the county primary, local politics has already begun to stir.

The announcement of Judge Remer Proctor for re-election as judge of the city court appears in this issue. Other announcements for the various offices are expected next week.

In passing, it is worth while to call attention of the people to the fact that three county commissioners are to be elected at this time for the next four years. There is no office to be filled at the coming election that is of more importance than this. The county's business involves a capital of more than $100,000 annually, raised through taxation from the people. The business of the office is immense and requires men of ability and worth. The three present commissioners, who assumed the duties of the office at the beginning of the present year, are recognized as such. It has been urged that they shall stand for re-election. The people of the county could not do better than to continue them in office.

WILL NOT OPPOSE DEAL.

Following the publication of the almost certain entrance of Hon. A. M. Deal in the race for congress, Hon. C. G. Edwards, who served for ten years and who had expressed a strong inclination to again become a candidate at the coming election, has been quoted in the Savannah Press as declaring he would not be a candidate against the Statesboro man.

Mr. Edwards gives, as his reason, that Bulloch county people are his friends and have always given him their vote in every race for the office. This friendship he values too highly to permit himself to oppose one of Bulloch's favorite sons should one of them become a candidate. Mr. Edwards' friends, highly gratified at his magnanimous attitude, recognize his declaration of his decision as creditable to him and a favorable omen for the Bulloch county candidate.

There has sprung up the general feeling that Mr. Overstreet will be a candidate for re-election, though he has not been known to have so declared himself. Personally, Mr. Deal has been a warm supporter of Mr. Overstreet, having supported him in his every race for congress, and what ever of political obligation may exist over of political obligation may exist would seem to impel Mr. Overstreet to be at least as magnanimous as has been Mr. Edwards, whom Mr. Deal has never supported. What will Mr. Overstreet do about it? He holds the key in his hand. It is almost unthinkable that there could be a race for congress in which a new candidate is unopposed; and yet that could be the case.

We are going to watch developments closely, and will make this prediction, that if Albert Deal is forced to run again his friend Overstreet, there will be some very hot times in the First Congressional district before the primary election in September.

NEED NOT PAY TAXES.

Attorney-General Napier has announced his opinion that women may vote in Georgia this year without the payment of poll taxes for 1921. Under this ruling, those who paid poll taxes last year are entitled to a refund, and in some of the counties against women previous to that time.

This information may be of some interest to any women who have deferred registration on account of the belief that taxes were demanded for last year. As the law now stands, the women of Georgia stand in exactly the same relation to tax paying as male citizens. Whether they vote or not, they are subject to a poll tax if within the poll tax age—21 and 60 years. Failure to register does not exempt from this taxation. The tax assessor of the county will be required, as we understand it, to mark as delinquent and double tax all women who fail to make proper return to the receiver of all taxes to which they may be subject, poll or personal. In the event the tax is not paid, as we understand it, it will be issued by the tax collector and levied against any property which the delinquent may own. Certainly a case no property is found, there will be no way to enforce the collection. However, no woman can vote without first having paid all taxes levied on her under the same terms as are required of male voters.

RAILROADS AND HIGHWAYS.

The announced intention of a distinguished member of the Georgia legislature to introduce in the next session of that body a proposition for the state to buy the A. B. & A. railroad, brings about a rather anomalous condition, coming as it does upon the very heels of the proposition to bond the state for $75,000,000 to build highways.

Under recent developments, it has become almost completely established as a fact that the state of Georgia does not need both highways and railroads. According as the highways are being improved and motor transportation increased, it transpires that railroads are going into disuse as passenger and freight vehicles. The railroad officials generally are making the disclosure that business is in a bad way with them, and they may well lay the blame largely to the automobile development. Certainly when people ride in automobiles, the railroads are losing fares; when freight is transported by trucks, the roads lose the freight. There is no gaining that there has been an immense increase in the amount of automobile travel and truck transportation.

We doubt not that the A. B. & A. road, which is said to be on the verge of bankruptcy, can easily trace large responsibility for its condition to the building of highways and the development of the automobile industry.

We can see the point advanced by the legislator, that the state will protect its present property by taking some reasonable steps along the line suggested. It may be a wise proposition, for all we can say. But it would be a rather anomalous condition if the state should undertake to spend the millions of dollars suggested as necessary to buy the defunct railroad, and at the same time pass a bond issue for $75,000,000 which would almost if not completely wipe out the railroad property of the map—as highway development is doing in a large measure with the other railroads of the state.

DAVIS IN ATTENDANCE UPON BERRIEN TRIAL.

J. W. Davis, county school superintendent, is in Atlanta this week in attendance upon the trial of R. M. Berrien, the broker who is charged with a shortage of something like $40,000 of the state school funds.

Bulloch county is interested in the trial of Berrien, who is charged with a shortage of something like $40,000 of the funds, being one of the counties whose funds Berrien defaulted with.

SUCCESSFUL LIFE NOT MEASURED IN CASH

Editor Bulloch Times,

I read a letter in your paper by Mr. W. R. Whitaker, who is a citizen and farmer of Bulloch county. He gave an account of his services and the hardships endured by him when a soldier in the army of the Confederacy. Mr. Whitaker, like the other surviving soldiers of that terrible war, can tell our people something about real hard time, as well as real suffering. The young men ought to talk occasionally with these old soldiers and learn something of those days that tried men's souls.

Mr. Whitaker should not only be proud of the record that he made as a soldier, but deeply thankful, at the age of 76, for good health, good eyesight, good hearing, good recollection, good appetite, and plenty to eat. Some of us are not even thankful for all these blessings. With blessings like these a man can say, along with others, that such a life is a success whether crowned with earthly riches or not.

Yours very truly,
J. A. BRANNEN.

MRS. WARNOCK CELEBRATES SIXTY-THIRD BIRTHDAY

Mrs. J. A. Warnock, of Brooklet, celebrated her sixty-third birthday Monday, having present something like 75 of her relatives and friends to enjoy the occasion with her.

The members of the local committee are preparing to handle the largest crowd of the season when the doors open for the performance of Floyd and Co., the famous magicians, Monday night, April 3rd. This is their second trip south and they are expected to be very successful. Advt. $10,000.00 is the value placed by Floyd, the magician, on his wonderful trunk mystery. According to the story going the rounds, he was approached some time ago by the agent of another magician who wanted to buy the secret of this most baffling performance, and this was the price asked by Mr. Floyd, who originated the first Monday and Tuesday night shows and the majority of his other famous mysteries. He comes to the court house with his company of artists Monday night, April 3rd.—Adv. Mr. Monts, superintendent of the city schools, says that Floyd and Co., who come to the court house Monday night, April 3rd, comprise the most polished and entertaining company of magicians he has ever seen. Their tricks of magic keep the audience gasping in astonishment.—Advt.

SOUTH CAROLINA IN COTTON ASSOCIATION

LEGISLATURE PASSES SPECIAL BILL ORDERING THAT STATE CROP BE POOLED.

Columbia, S. C., March 21.—Cotton produced on the public farms of the state of South Carolina will be sold co-operatively for the next five years on the same plan that Georgia farmers will follow this year. Governor Cooper yesterday signed a special bill passed by the general assembly empowering the superintendent of the penitentiary to sign the contract for marketing through the South Carolina Cotton Growers' Co-operative Association.

The contract being signed in South Carolina is identical with the contract in Georgia. Both state organizations will be federated into the American Cotton Growers Exchange, and the cotton of each state will be sold by one great national farmer sales agency.

A campaign is now going on in South Carolina with approximately 100,000 bales thus far pledged. The state is expected to reach its quota of 400,000 bales by May 1, which is one month after the close of the Georgia campaign.

Immediacy after Governor Cooper signed the bill for selling the state's cotton, the superintendent placed his name on the dotted line. The state grows about 600 bales year on several public farms. The superintendent announced that he has 1500 bales on hand which he would turn over to the association as soon as it is organized.

The signing of the bill and the contract was witnessed by a number of legislators, cotton association officials, representatives of the extension forces of Clemson College, newspaper men and others.

WARNING.

All persons are warned not to trespass, either by hunting, cutting or hauling wood, or in any manner whatsoever, upon the lands of the other side in the 1575th district. Trespassers will be prosecuted to the extent of the law.

C. B. HEATH.

NOTICE TO PECAN GROWERS.

NOTICE.

Just a few lines to my customs and friends: I wish to state right here that we are doing all we can at 1 times to give the best service we can, unless we have the help of a milk customer in cleaning and making out bottles each night. It makes it very hard on us, as it is expensive to have so much money invested in bottles, and there is no one that realizes the expense of any business until they experience it.

In the time of the tight times of getting money, our expenses are getting higher, as bottles and caps have advanced, caps 50 per cent, bottles 3 per cent and gasoline about 20 per cent, although we are retelling our prices as before the World War.

Now, there is no business that can continue to run always losing money. Hoping you will all consider what we have said and help us in our expense, as it will benefit each of us.

Thanking you for your past patronage and soliciting more in the future.

Yours truly,
AKINS DAIRY.

Slats' Diary

(By Rosa Farquhar.)

Friday—Bilsteres ma had a surprise on him tonight and a lot of kids and sum girls.

So I went up to Jane and her and I had a dance with her and she replied and said yes at 11 o'clock.

I said I couldn't stay that late. And she said nether end she. After she saying that I refused to dance with her a talk.

Sat.—Me and pa was down town shopping and buying a pair of socks.

and we seen a girl go by in an otto smoking a cigarette in a ivory holder. I sed Pa Aint that awful for a woman to smoke cigarettes and he sed Well he tho't they had as much right to smoke as other people. But he didn't think they would ever learn to spit strate.

Sunday—Ely sung a solo at Sunday school this morning and we had went out side she sed to me What would you do if you had a voice like mine. And Jake butted in and says if I had a voice like yours I would by me a wagon and a bunch of bananas.

Which was very rude to say the least. I about all ways tell people nice things which wont hurt their feelings even if you half to stretch the Truth a little at Times. Mrs. Hix says she had ought to no as she is with over a 100 dollars.

Monday—I was invited over to Dud's house for supper this evening and had a nice time with I admitted to her ma before I left. It is pleasant to go away from home now and occasionally where if you spill gravy on the table Cloth they smile at you and say O that's all rite it dont make diffrence. Instead of saying you and running you off to bed. Like I got done sometimes.

Tuesday—Pa and his Boss had sum trouble today on the nose paper Pa run out of Ns and in setting up about Mrs. C. says party sed The guests all died in the party decorated home at High 12. Mrs. C. got sore all so.

Wednesday—Teacher set us when the best time was to sleep and I got kept in for saying The best time to sleep is in the morning when you half to get up. Pa says Lots of Divorces is caused by girls falling in love with some Guys lovy Dancing and marrying the whole man.

Thursday—Ma hollered at pa in the nite when he was snoring and told him if he wood keep his mouth shut he woodnt make so much noise. He sed That mite wark with lots of fokes.

T. VIRGIL MIKELL.

T. Virgil Mikell, formerly of Statesboro, died suddenly in Atlanta Sunday afternoon of heart trouble, following an illness of only a few hours with severe cold. Information of his serious illness was first received by his family here Saturday afternoon, and his brothers, Remer and Allen Mikell, left the same night for Atlanta. He died about noon Sunday.

The body was brought to Statesboro for burial and interment was in East Side cemetery Monday afternoon following services at the Primitive Baptist church conducted by Elder W. H. Croase.

Deceased was a son of J. S. Mikell of this place. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Gussie Mikell, and three brothers, Remer, Allen and Brooks, besides a large family connection and relatives throughout the county. He was about 45 years of age. He had been in the employ of the Atlanta Georgian for several years.

FLOYD TRUNK MYSTERY MOST BAFFLING TRICK

Mr. J. E. McCroan, president of Birch-Farrish Company, in speaking of the Magician Floyd and his famous trunk mystery, says, "It is the most baffling trick I ever saw. I helped the man in the heavy iron-bound trunk, locked it with the key, and then wrapped it securely with a strong manila rope. With the other members of the committee we tied these ropes in hard knots. Then we gave him one minute to get out, without outside aid. When the minute was up, he stood before us with the ropes and handcuffs and upon investigation we found inside the trunk Mahala will always be a mystery to me."

Floyd and his marvelous company will be a court house one night only, Monday, April 3rd.—Advertise.
